

Formtek is hosting an Alfresco Software Lunch & Learn session in our Concord office at 11:30 AM on July 28 to demonstrate how businesses like yours are benefiting from the leading open source enterprise content management (ECM) software solution.

Join us for lunch and sit back and relax while you hear how Alfresco is reducing ECM costs by over 95% compared to proprietary systems like Documentum, Open Text and SharePoint. Alfresco will review in depth how companies are seeing a huge return on their investment with Alfresco's document management, web content management and records management solutions. You will also have the opportunity to view a product demonstration provided by Formtek's Chief Technologist, Dick Weisinger.

This free lunch and learn is an opportunity for you to talk to the Alfresco and Formtek experts and hear first hand about the low cost, simple to use ECM software that thousands of companies are relying on, and saving money with, everyday.

Click here to register for the July 28 event in Concord.

We look forward to your participation and if you have any questions beforehand, please contact the Formtek events team at events@formtek.com.